FACULTY ORIENTATION

Faculty Orientation (FO) Program

This program is designed to ensure that our faculty understand how to facilitate and deliver flexible learning courses in our online platform. In this program, faculty learn how to navigate and use the online platform, help students develop exemplary leadership competencies and skills, learn to facilitate orientation and remediation training, and understand their responsibility to uphold our academic standards and policies.

Courseware Materials

The list of courseware materials below are standard for every eCourse. Students must purchase required courseware materials and textbooks to successfully complete the program and earn the degree. These out-of-pocket expenses combined with residency and technology fees are in lieu of tuition. Our students do not pay tuition to take required courses in any degree program.

Faculty Orientation (FO) Program

OLC Portal Basics (SO100)

This eCourse introduces the features and functions of the Oracle Learning Community (OLC) platform. It covers dashboard navigation, account management, accessing programs and eCourses, transcripts, assignments, feedback, and support. Faculty learn how to access, interact, share, and contribute to the development and leadership of students as they progress through their programs.

Facilitating Flexible eCourses (FO101)

In this eCourse, faculty learn how to deliver flexible eCourses. The eModule covers tuition-free education, flexible learning, facilitation best practices and techniques, integrated courseware, exemplary academics, and performance evaluations. The eClass provides an opportunity for instructors to gain practice in implementing instructional delivery strategies in the learning environment. Faculty will deliver a lecture, facilitate collaborative projects and practice activities, participate in discussions, manage the social learning experience, use courseware, and evaluate student performance.
